

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Wednesday, Sept. 20

2000

Shuttle Atlantis returns safely to Kennedy Space Center

Atlantis and crew landed safely at Kennedy Space Center in Florida at 4:56 a.m. CDT Wednesday after a more than 11-day successful mission to prepare the International Space Station for its first crew. The next mission is set to launch Oct. 5 to continue work on the Space Station.

40th anniversary video premieres at 10 a.m. Wed., in Morris Auditorium. Free popcorn

Marshall Center marks 40th anniversary Thursday

Thursday's celebration of Marshall's 40th anniversary begins at 9 a.m. in Morris Auditorium with a tribute to Gen. George C. Marshall, a performance by the 283rd U.S. Army Band from Fort Benning, Ga., and a speech by Apollo 17 astronaut Gene Cernan. The Perspectives Forum will be at 10:40 a.m. in Morris. At 11:30 a.m., activities move to the Bldg. 4200 Courtyard for lunch; more music by the Army Band; and a Cernan book signing. A time capsule ceremony will be at 1 p.m.; and at 2 p.m., the 40th anniversary cake will be served, with entertainment by the Latin Rhythms band.

Cernan book 'Last Man on the Moon' available for pick up

Employees who ordered a copy of "Last Man on the Moon" by Apollo 17 astronaut Gene Cernan, may pick up those books in Bldg. 4752.

Sign up for CFC bus tours Sept. 26-28, Oct. 17-19 on 'Inside Marshall'